DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election without traverse of claims 44-61 is acknowledged.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 44-61 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The recitation that the inner surface of a ring like or cylindrical semiconductor element is patterned in accordance with features of the semiconductor device, is vague as to the exact device structure being claimed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 44-61 are further rejected, insofar as understood, under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kemeny (6,515,346). The Kemeny reference teaches the claimed invention with a semiconductor device being formed, where the device comprises an elongated element with a central perforation, and where the inner surface of the perforation or bore, may have semiconductor features formed therein. See, for example, the discussion in Kemeny at col. 4, l.43-45, where Kemeny states that the inner bore or perforation may have integrated circuits built onto the inner surface of the perforation, as claimed.

As seen in FIGS. 6 and 9 of Kemeny, various contact structures may also be employed, and plural structures may be integrated together. As such, Kemeny's device structure meets all of the claimed limitations.
